

100 word challenge

This picture looks like a war but not any war a world war one. They are young men fighting for us and they are risking their lives to fight for their country. because they do not want to be invaded and they are brave men but they do not want to do this they are just doing it so people don't think their comrades. please hope they win and keep our country safe. But if they lose who will do what will happen our country might be ruled by another country. They hope their is never another war. If we are in war they are all going to be every
