

100 word challenge.

I am a soldier in the war. Right this second I am bombing the Germans from up in the sky. My plane nearly got damaged by an explosion. It was terrifying. Down below I can hear the guns and see soldiers walking past their muddy trenches. Germans were chasing me down so I glided upwards and took the Germans out by dropping a bomb, and landed safely at my base. If you were me you would be horribly, horribly scared. War is really horrific.
